RE: Delete, Delete, Delete

Dear Mr. Carr:

I completely oppose removing federal rules that establish restrictions on ownership of broadcast television and radio. The billionaire class already owns and controls too much of our media outlets. In the current structure of broadcast media, extremely large firms already control a large percentage of the programming and views aired. We need more protection to assure that a diversity of opinions is heard in our nation. Eliminating rules that prevent monopoly control over our media would further devastate our democratic system. Freedom of speech is critical to our democracy. A diversity of views need to be heard, otherwise our representative democracy will be destroyed. Do not eliminate the rules that assure a broader range of broadcast media ownership.

I also believe that the FCC should establish similar rules preventing monopoly control of social media outlets. We need diversity to assure the best interests of our nation are heard, now and into the future.
